

The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. MORTIMER, EDITOR.

LEHIGHTON, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING FEBRUARY 7, 1874.

Removal!

Our friends will please take notice that the office of THE CARBON ADVOCATE will be removed from its present location to the building almost directly opposite, belonging to P. S. Heintzelman, Esq., on or about the 1st of March next.

Gen. Cushing expects to start for his post of duty at Madrid on the 22. He is reported to be putting a rod in pickle for somebody.

A Washington dispatch of the 2d inst. says, "the house by an overwhelming vote resolved to-day to practically restore the franking privilege by setting the 12th inst. as the day to consider a bill for that purpose, the dead heading of letters is the only improvement on the old swindling law. The salve that is intended to cure the wounded honor of every man who votes for this bill to revive dead head mail matter is a provision to allow newspaper exchanges to be carried free. This will please the country newspapers and excuse the votes of country members."

A special dispatch from Conneautville, Pa., gives an account of a most daring and extensive robbery at that place Saturday evening. While the Cashier of the First National Bank, D. D. Williams, was writing at his desk he heard a rap at the side door. Upon opening the door two masked men sprang upon him, bound and gagged him, and succeeded in making their escape with $14,000 in currency and $30,000 in United States bonds. Mr. Williams was found Monday morning in an unconscious state, but recovered consciousness in a couple of hours after being released.

Harry Genet was plaintiff in a civil suit in the Common Pleas of New York, and in its application was Sunday made to Judge Robinson by the defendant to compel him under the statute to give security for costs as a non-resident plaintiff. Mr. Genet's counsel insisted that he had not given up his residence in this State, but it being inconvenient for him at this date to occupy it he was on a temporary visit abroad. The Court thought that the change was permanent, the absence being forced, and therefore the motion was denied.

The Senate Military Committee Tuesday agreed to report a bill to be hereafter framed for the equalization of bounties. It will probably be on the basis of the bill introduced by Senator Caldwell last year, which proposed to give a uniform bounty of eight and one-half dollars per month to each and every officer or private who had served at any time either in the regular or volunteer service, between April 5th, 1861, and April 15th, 1865, the bounty payments already made to be deducted, and the benefit of the provision to be extended also to the widows and other heirs of deceased soldiers.

Gen. Sherman was before the House Military Committee on Saturday last, and in speaking of the present Indian policy of the Government he said that the influence of the humanitarians, who regarded murder on the part of the Indians as a mere exhibition of moral insanity, had induced Gov. Davis, of Texas, who ought to know better, to commute the sentence of Satanta and Big Tree, and the same influence at Washington had finally restored them to freedom, and they were now on the reservation ready to start out on more murderous raids. If they should scalp Gov. Davis the next time, he intimated that he would not shed many tears. He reviewed the Modoc difficulties, and gave it as his opinion that Gen. Canby had been a victim of the temporizing Quaker policy. He favored the transfer of the Indians from the control of the Interior Department to that of the War Department.

In the House of Representatives Mr. Woodford has introduced a bill providing that after July 1, 1874, invalid pensioners who are totally disabled through the loss of eyes or limbs by reason of injury received or disease contracted while in the military or naval service, so as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person, shall be entitled to a pension of fifty dollars per month; that all persons who, under like circumstances, shall have lost one hand and one foot, or so disabled as to be incapacitated for manual labor, but not so much as to require regular personal attendance, shall be entitled to a pension of thirty-five dollars per month; and that those who have been so disabled as to render them incapable to perform manual labor equivalent to the loss of a hand or foot shall be entitled to a pension of twenty-five dollars per month. The measure proposed is as much an equalization as an increase of pensions, and certainly those soldiers who have suffered so severely as to bring them within the class it is proposed to benefit are fully entitled to such consideration.

Gen. Harney, whose name exercised such a wholesome terror over the hostile Indians a score of years ago, but who has been retired from active service for the last ten or twelve years, was before the House Committee on Military Affairs Wednesday, and was asked to give his views in reference to Indian matters. He gave it as his opinion that if the Indians were treated fairly there would never be any difficulty with them. He had known but two instances in which they had ever violated treaty stipulations, and in those two instances the Indians were to be excused, for the treaties had grown old before they were sought to be enforced by the Government, and the chiefs and head men who had made them were all dead. The troubles with the Indians were principally caused by fraudulent agents and by whiskey dealers. He had never known an Indian agent who had not grown rich in office except one. On being asked how the whiskey sellers could be suppressed, he answered without hesitation that they should be hanged or shot by the nearest military officer. He would have the officer take that responsibility. He was decidedly of opinion that the management of the Indians would be much more efficiently and honestly conducted by army officers than by civilians, unless army officers had changed very much since he knew them.

Somebody remembers that 99 years ago February was so warm a month that people were able to bathe in the open air.

The public debt statement shows a decrease of the debt for the past month of $1,845,211.

Chief Justice Seymour, Connecticut, has retired from the bench, having attained the constitutional limit of age—70 years.

A bold thief in Cincinnati stole 18 hogs from a stock yard, drove them through the city, and got clean off with his plunder.

The carpet manufacturers of England and Scotland have agreed upon an advance of ten per cent. in the wages of their workmen.

Father Kelly, of St. Malachi's Church, Philadelphia, died very suddenly on Monday morning last; in the 50th year of his age.

Mrs. Cunningham, of Huntingdon, recently gave her baby the usual dose of laudanum to keep it quiet during the night and now mourns the result of her folly.

The Judge delivered a lengthy charge to the jury in the Evans case Saturday morning, who, after being out three hours, rendered a verdict of $185,668.50 for the State.

N. S. Dodge, formerly Quartermaster of the Army, subsequently an employee of the Treasury Department at Washington, and well known in literary circles, died at Boston, on Tuesday.

The two negroes, Lewis Rosentine and John Moody, the murderers of Farmer Behm, were Tuesday morning sentenced to be hanged. Rosentine admitted his guilt, and will, no doubt, make a full confession. Moody still asserts his innocence.

On Thursday afternoon of last week a portion of a roof of a coal mine in Plains township, four miles from Wilkes-Barre, belonging to Hillside Coal and Iron Company, fell in, crushing beneath it a laborer named Patrick McDonald. The body was not recovered until Saturday.

Miss Rosa Sands, daughter of Rear Admiral Sands, United States Navy, now in charge of the Naval Observatory at Washington, Friday received the white veil of the nuns of Order of the Visitation, at Mount de Sales Convent, Baltimore County, Md. A very large assembly witnessed the ceremony.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 2.—This has been the coldest morning of the season. At Lancaster the thermometer indicated 46 degrees below zero; at Canaan, 36; at Franklin, 30; at Meriden, 32; at Lake Village, 32; at Bradford, 30; and in this city 24 degrees below zero. The temperature is now moderating. The barometer is unusually high.

The opinion that frost does not render brittle either cast-iron or wrought iron or steel, was expressed at a late discussion before the Manchester Literary and Philosophical Society, by several well qualified judges, among them Sir W. Fairbairn and Dr. Joule. The latter gentleman said that railway accidents arise from the neglect of the companies to submit wheels, axles, and all other parts of their rolling stock, to a particular and sufficient test before using them; and Sir W. Fairbairn attributed much of the danger arising from the broken wheels of cars, not so much to changes of temperature, as to the practice of heating them to a dull red heat, and shrinking them on to the rim of the wheel.

The political campaign of 1874 will be one of the most important State canvasses that we have ever had in Pennsylvania, on account of the number of important officers we will have to elect. Under the new Constitution, now the organic law of the State, we will have to elect two Judges of the Supreme Court, a Lieutenant Governor, a Secretary of Internal Affairs, twenty-seven Congressmen, a large number of State Senators and 201 Representatives, whose duty it will be to elect a United States Senator at the session of 1875. This will make lively times in the "Old Keystone."

Harrisburg, Feb. 3.—Under the recent legal decisions showing that he owes the State $185,000, George O. Evans is now looked up in the Dauphin county jail. He will probably remain until he complies with the requirements of bankrupt law of 1842, which requires the bankrupt to show his assets and liabilities and reasons for bankruptcy. If he complies with this last condition he will be obliged to show the exact manner in which he expended the large commissions received from the State, and with whom the profits were divided.

Look Out For Them.

A party of deceiving impostors are at present traveling through the country districts swindling farmers with dry goods samples, and it will therefore be well to keep a sharp lookout for them. Their game is to go from house to house exhibiting samples of cotton goods, &c. These they propose to sell for about one quarter of their real value, and of course take a large number of orders therefor, with the promise to deliver the goods soon. Then they exhibit a lot of cloths and cassimeres, almost worthless, which they sell for a big price, delivering the goods on the spot, and receiving the cash therefor. Of course, the cotton goods are never forthcoming, while the swindlers have disappeared with the money they received for the worthless cloths, etc.—Allentown Democrat.

The sleighing in this neighborhood has been tolerably good for the past few days.
